TO THE SCOTTISH RITE MASONS OF SAN ANTONIO
(On the Gift of Some Flowers)

BY FLETCHER DAVIS

Written April 1, 1919, while flat on his back in a room at the Santa Rosa Infirmary, suffering from a broken thigh).

Thanks for the beautiful flowers,
The sweet gift of your loving hands;
They have lessened the tedium of the hours
And hastened the trickle of time's sands.

Their loveliness and beauty have cheered away the deep gloom
That has hung heavily, like a black pall, and has darkened
The narrow prison-like confines of my hospital room;
While my sad soul, from its pining, has hearkened
The sweet kind spirit which, prompting the beautiful gift,
Has seemed up onto a wonderful, beautiful mountain
Rare vision my flagging, thirst-famishing soul to lift,
Where it drinks of the pure, sparkling waters of love's fountain
And views, with depth-stirring raptures of ineffable bliss,
Where the fair and far-flung valley of man's love fraternal
Touches, as dawn touches the morn, in a rapturous kiss,
God's own borderland of Fatherhood and love eternal.
I take it that man, weak, frail companion of the clod,
When he shows, unselfish and true, his love for his fellow Loves best, and shows it to all the world, his love of his God!
So, as the frail flowers there in their vase pale and yellow,
Fill my room with their cheer, I bask in their sweet perfumes
And feast my heavy laden eyes on their delicate bloom,
While my spirit with the spirit of the givers communes
And my soul is lifted out of its sadness and gloom!

Thanks for the beautiful flowers,
The sweet gift of your loving hands;
May their like forever blow in ample bowers
For Masons in all the world's far lands!

—Texas Freemason.

Saturday's Election.

Amendment election last Saturday was held very quietly, quite a number of the voters throughout the county failing to avail themselves of the opportunity to vote. All the amendments were defeated in this county by the majorities. Following is the result of the voting at the various precincts:

Precinct No. 9—Natalia—did not open the polls.

Following are the majorities against the different amendments in this county, only about three-fourths of the entire vote being cast:

Against prohibition.....439
" woman suffrage.....527
" Governor's salary.....613
" land loans.....359

A rather light vote was cast throughout the state, possibly not over two-thirds of the vote being polled. The returns from the election have been rather slow in being reported. Prohibition seems to have carried by between 12,000 and 15,000 votes, while woman suffrage seems to have failed by about 10,000. The proposition to raise the Governor's salary is apparently defeated by approximately 40,000, while the proposition to lend the state's credit to people in acquiring homes seems to have succeeded by a very close margin—probably between 5,000 and 6,000 votes.

Pichot-Weynand.

Mr. Louis H. Pichot and Miss Celestina Weynand were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Schweers, Hondo, Texas, Tuesday evening, May 27th, 1919, Rev. Francis Pallanche, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church, officiating.

The bride is one of the fair daughters of our neighboring town, D'Hanis, where she has spent her entire life. By her many womanly graces and charming personality she has attracted the love and esteem of all who know her, all of whom rejoice with her in her new found happiness.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pichot; was reared among the people of this section and has a large circle of warm friends. He has but recently returned from France where he served as a soldier in the American expeditionary forces. Mr. and Mrs. Pichot will make their home in Hondo.

To the newly wedded couple the Anvil Herald, in connection with a host of other friends, extends congratulations and best wishes for a joyous passage down life's pathway.

Rimkus-Poerner.

Mr. Walter Rimkus and Miss Ida Poerner of this place were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Poerner, Tuesday evening, May 27, 1919, Rev. F. Maas, pastor of the Catholic Church officiating.

They will make their future home in D'Hanis where Mr. Rimkus holds a position with the D'Hanis Brick and Tile Co.

We join the host of friends in wishing them a long and happy life.—D'Hanis Star.

Airdome Re-opens.

After being closed for more than a year the Airdome will be re-opened next Wednesday night. Good pictures are promised. As Hondo has been somewhat short on amusements for sometime it is very probable the opening of this amusement place will be hailed with delight by our people—particularly the younger generation.

Rain Parasols.

Parasols are of ancient lineage, but before umbrellas became common an article resembling a parasol was used by the ladies to keep off the rain. These were called "gultasols," a name derived from the Spanish; they were of oiled muslin, were of various colors and were imported from India by way of England. After these came umbrellas, which were also made of oiled linen, but the linen was coarse and the umbrella large and bulky. In 1771 a noted doctor and a famous preacher tried to introduce the fashion of using umbrellas, to keep off the sun, but "they were scouted in the public gazettes as a ridiculous effeminacy."

MUCH LIKE OLD-WORLD CITY

Capital of State of Washington Has Retained Impression Given It by Its Builders.

Those who had the naming of mountains and cities of the Northwest chose with a lavish hand from the names of gods and goddesses of mythology, and Indian tribes. The Olympic mountains might well have been those from which Jove hurled his thunder. And the sylvan town of Olympia, the capital of the state of Washington, seems more fitting for the temples of Greece than for those of lawmaking of an American state.

With the exception, possibly, of Annapolis, Maryland, no state in the Union has chosen such an old-world-appearing hamlet for its capital, a town almost segregated from the outside world. At the end of a wonderfully beautiful waterway, deep-seated in the hills and forests, Olympia has none of the atmosphere of politics and big business.

The town is a very small one, so small indeed that the average overland train would not even hesitate as it passed through. Its water front until recently, has been adorned with pleasure craft, fishing fleets and cannery boats. The fjords of Puget sound afford unlimited opportunities for fishing and pleasure excursions.

Here loggers and lawmakers have met in the past to solve the mighty problems of legislation and lumbering. Here cannery boats tied up in winter for overhauling. Here in time long past men tramped in from Tacoma and Seattle with supplies which they could not wrest from nature, on their backs.

The town climbs a short distance into the surrounding hills from the water front, and then stops. The state capitol resembles a dignified seat of learning in northern Europe; in fact nearly all Northwest buildings bear the stamp of the home of their builders, the Scandinavians, Scottish and English settlers.

FINE TREES IN PHILIPPINES

Nowhere Are There More Enormous Trunks Than in the Lowlands of the Islands.

Until we fell heir to the Philippine islands we had no dense virgin tropical forests belonging to the United States. The Hawaiian islands are well within the tropics, but the topography of the islands is not such as to induce the gigantic growth of trees. There are no denser or more enormous tree-growth anywhere in the world, however, than are to be found over great areas of the Philippine lowlands. The soil is of excessive richness, the rainfall is heavy, and the climate combines to induce a riotous tangle of vegetation which is unimaginable to those who have not actually seen it or are familiar only with the orderly and usually comparatively scant growths of the temperate zone. Even the great forests of the far West, which cut more board feet to the acre than any other forest lands in the world, cannot compare for a moment in luxuriance and profligacy of growth with the tropical forest. They impress you, it is true, with having been many centuries in the making, but on the other hand the rank and enormous growths of the lowland tropics make you feel that they have always been there since the world commenced. The northern forests are reposeful; the tropical jungle is savage, overwhelming.—Exchange.

Outclassed Joseph's Coat.

If a prize were given at Essex Market police court for variety in costume, it would have been awarded to a man who appeared in court the other day to account for a missing overcoat, writes the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. He came before the judge a brilliant rainbow. He had tan shoes, pink socks, a gray checked suit and a green bow tie, also red hair. In reviewing the case the court attendants agreed that the east side Beau Brummel not only carried off the first honors but that he surpassed any multicolored display that had appeared for many moons. The famous coat of Joseph had nothing on the complainant, even without the overcoat. The brief manner in which the case was dismissed made the court attendants believe that such a screeching regalia was warm enough to combat any kind of weather, even without an overcoat.

The First "White Way."

When William Niblo opened his new theater at Broadway and Prince street, back on Independence day, 1828, he celebrated the double occasion by a patriotic display of gas lights which haunted the name of "Niblo" far and wide and immortalized it in stage as well as gas history. An admiring public gazed from a respectful distance, watching the red, white and blue shadows cast by the rows of gas jets spelling the proprietor's name.

Gas had been used for the first time in New York city five years before, but to the owner of Niblo's garden goes the credit of first using gas for illuminating a theater.—Gas Logic.

Significant.

"Do you know, George," remarked Mrs. Ray, "I should say the Browns' marriage was an ideal one. I couldn't help but notice it tonight. Really, there wasn't one word of disagreement. I believe they both think absolutely alike."

"They are a charming couple, my dear, perfectly charming," said her husband, "but as to their thinking alike, Madge, did you notice that she always thought first?"

Wind That Scorches.

The name "harmattan" has been given to a dry hot wind which blows from the interior of Africa toward the Atlantic during December, January and February. Every plant, every bit of grass and leaf in its course is withered as though it had been seared by heat from a furnace.

Point of Natural History.

Two small boys were awaiting their teacher on the sidewalk. One began to crawl on hands and knees, unmindful of clean white stockings, and was corrected by the other lad, but would not arise, as he said he was a lion. "Lions don't walk that way," said the second little fellow, "they walk on their feet."

The Guitar.

The guitar is an instrument of six strings, viz. E, A, D, G, B, E. The strings, if sounded together, would not make a chord according to the rules of modern harmony. It is not a difficult instrument to learn and its chief use is in accompanying another instrument or the voice in singing.

Old University.

Cracow has the oldest university, barring that of Prague, in central Europe. It once numbered among its students Copernicus, who originated and proved the remarkable theory that the earth revolved about the sun, and not contrariwise.

Too Cannibalistic, Perhaps.

"A Russian announces that donkeys are 'good to eat,'" remarks the Carthage Free Press. "When it gets to that point, we know of one person who is going to sign up to observe 'meatless days.'"—Kansas City Times.

Instinct of Brotherhood.

The moment we can use our possessions to any good purpose ourselves, the instinct of communicating that use to others rises side by side with our power.—Ruskin.

Ever Tried It?

Half the excitement of being in love is trying to make the other person confess it while you assume a careless indifference.—Record.

Dad Knew.

"Dad, what are the silent watches of the night?" "They are the ones which their owners forget to wind, my son."

Optimistic Thought.

Keep good company and you'll be of them.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

The Preacher's Wife (after the departure of the newly wedded pair) Do you think that was a fortunate marriage?

The Preacher—Very; I certainly need the money.

A Fancy.

We are made of dust, they tell me. And maybe that is why a girl oft causes trouble. When she gets in a fellow's way.

How Annoying!

Bob—What a nuisance that dog Jack—Oh, fierce! After he touched him for money five or six times he begins asking you to repay him.

Whence the Red in Flags.
The actual defenders of the red flag do not know or have forgotten that red was formerly the color of the church militant, and also of royalty until the epoch when Henry VI, king of England, took the title of king of France. Then red came to be considered as an infernal color in France and was replaced by white, which in its turn was given up by the English.
The red flag was displayed by the Catholic troops of Charles IX and Henry III, while the flags of the Protestants were white.

Appreciated Cats.
When Mulai Hafid, sultan of Morocco, succeeded to the sultanate he found the sacred city of Fez infested by rats. Without any loss of time he at once nationalized all the cats of Morocco and issued a command that many thousands of them should be brought into Fez for service. For some time a law has existed in Hongkong making it compulsory to keep cats in every house, the number varying according to the size of the house.

Religions of the World.
According to the latest available figures, the religions of the world are divided as follows: Christians, 564,510,
000; Confucianists and Taoists, 300,
830,000; Mohammedans, 221,825,000;
Hindus, 210,540,000; Animists, 158, 270,000; Buddhists, 138,031,000; Shintoists, 25,000,000; Jews, 12,205,000; unclassified, 15,280,000.—People's Home Journal.

The Milky Way.
The arch of the Milky Way stretches across the evening sky from east to west, rising between Orion and Gemini, where Jupiter seems a gorgeous diamond depending from its laces; passing through the golden chain of Cassiopeia in the zenith, and descending to the western horizon between Vega, the dazzling gem in Apollo's lyre.

Odd Foods.
Sea urchins' eggs are used in Ceylon as we eat raw oysters here. The Mexicans use a variety of scorpion, after removing the sting, in a special sort of omelet, to which they add a peculiar sort of peppery flavor. A large variety of locusts and grasshoppers are dried, then cooked, by people in portions of India, Arabia and Syria.

Artistic Shop Signs.
Between Cuzco and Machu Picchu, in Peru, are quaint signs indicating what is sold in the Indian huts. A small bunch of wheat on the end of a pole indicates chicha—a native corn beer—for sale within. A green wreath means bread for sale, while a piece of white cloth indicates aguardiente, a powerful white rum.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!
A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.
Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

Children of Great Men.
Shakespeare had children from whom the world never heard. So it was with Dickens. None of his children came anywhere near his standard. Owen Meredith was a mediocre writer as compared with his father, Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton. Lytton, while a very voluminous writer, was also strong and fine at all times. Alexander Dumas fils could not at any time compare with Dumas the elder.
Nathaniel Hawthorne was head and shoulders above his son, Julian, in the power to produce books worth while.

Ancient Time Recorders.
Perhaps the first reference to attempts to reckon time by mechanical means is found in Isaiah 38-8, written supposedly about 713 B. C., "the sun dial of Ahaz." Pliny says that Anaxi-mander invented a sun dial about 550 B. C. The first sun dial at Rome was placed in the Temple of Quirinus, about 298 B. C., when time was divided into hours. The clepsydra, or water clock, was the next time recorder invented.

To Keep Cider Sweet.
To keep cider sweet place in each barrel immediately on making, mustard, four ounces; salt, one ounce, and ground chalk, one ounce. Shake well.
Or, cider may be preserved sweet by canning in airtight cans after the manner of preserving fruit. The liquid should be first settled and racked off from the dregs, but fermentation must not be allowed to commence before canning or it will not keep.

A Good Fight.
A good fight is never for its day alone. It is for many days. And it is not alone for him who bears its utmost stress. No man can live his own life bravely and not be an enemy of social good, virtue proceeding forth from him to heal some brother's wounded heart. There is a riddle here for us to guess.—John White Chadwick.

Work and Workers.
There is not so much difference in the world's work as in the world's workers. It is not so much difference what we are doing—so long as it is useful—that counts as the way in which we are doing it. The work of which we are ashamed we either have no right to do, or we are not doing it as we should.

Just Missed Perfection.
When Mrs. Langtry was at the summit of her beauty and fame she met at a dinner an African king who was visiting London. She did her best to please the dusky monarch and evidently succeeded, for he said to her as they parted: "Ah, madam, if heaven had only made you black and fat you would be irresistible."

Dire Day in Russian History.
November 30 is the anniversary of the defeat of Peter the Great in 1700
by Charles XII of Sweden. The Russian monarch had 40,000 troops against the 8,000 of his opponent, but the superior generalship of the Swede more than balanced the numerical superiority of the czar.

Eraser Hint.
When the eraser becomes well worn it is apt to smear the paper when it is used to erase a letter. To avoid this, simply rub a little chalk on the edge of the eraser and no smear will occur; and the erasure of the letter will be done much more quickly as well as more neatly.

Doing Well.
Pat was digging at his field, which turned out a very rough piece of land.
A policeman, looking over the gate, inquired whether he would get any potatoes off it this season. "Well," replied Pat, rather cheerfully, "I have 50 stones out up to the present."

Clocks That Speak.
Clocks without hands or faces are now common in Switzerland. The time-piece stands in the hall, and, when a button is pressed, by means of phono-graphic arrangements it calls out "Half-past five" or "Five minutes to nine," as the case may be.

Versatile Nut Tree.
In addition to nuts used in confectionery the Indian cashew tree yields an insect-repelling gum, a juice that makes an indelible ink and three kinds of oil, one edible and the others used to tan fishing nets and preserve wood.

Golden Deed.
Phillips Brooks said: "He who helps a child helps humanity with a distinct-ness, an immediateness, which no other help given in any other stage of human life can possibly give."

Foundation of All.
All government, indeed every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue, every prudent act, is founded on compromise and barter.—Burke.

Makes Some Difference.
Corrections made recently in maps of Greenland have shown it to be about 150,000 square miles larger than formerly believed.

One of the proudest men who ever breezed into the Anvil Herald office was a caller Wednesday morning in the person of Editor Davis himself. On the 11th of March he left the office last in the pink of health and no one dreaming that it would be eleven weeks and a day before he would get back and that then he would hobble in on a pair of crutches. This was his first time out of his room since the fracture of his thigh and constitutes his longest absence from his editorial desk since entering the newspaper business more than 19 years ago. Mr. Davis' fracture appears to have made a perfect union, without any shortening of the limb or abnormal turning of his foot, and he hopes a few weeks use of crutches will soon find his limb restored to full usefulness.

C. R. Myers, who was here from Goose Creek, Texas, this week on a visit to his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Tampke, and other relatives, was a pleasant caller at this office Friday morning. Since his discharge from the army some months ago he has been in the oil fields.

The papers are all three army publications and are filled with interesting matter relating to the army and army life. One in particular, the T-O. Calliope, is a typographic curiosity. It is printed in English but is set up in German type. These papers will be interesting historical relics in the days to come if preserved. The 90th Division is now enroute home to be discharged, and these publications will probably automatically cease with the disbandment of the corps.

He says he examined cotton there knee high that had neither a square or bloom on it. He says this is not the result of boll weevils as a close search failed to reveal the work of these pests, and he thinks it is the result of excessive moisture. Mrs. Sprott, who accompanied him to George West is protracting her visit. Mr. Sprott says he did not want to come home but Mrs. Sprott made him come to feed the chickens and look after other things at home. He says he never likes to be around where there is work to do.

Cutworm Control.

Farmers and gardeners may expect more or less injury from cutworms, says R. E. McDonald, of the Division of Entomology, State Department of Agriculture. He says that the cutworms stay in the ground during the winter, and begin to attack young plants as soon as they come up. He advises gardeners to put around newly set plants an old tin can with the top and bottom melted off. The cans should be slit down the sides so that they can be removed later without injury to the plants. Ordinary paper, rather stiff, will serve the purpose as well. This scheme will prevent the worms approaching the plants, but of course this is not practical for field crops. Cutworms will readily eat a poison bait if put out about sundown in little lumps about two or three feet apart. The bait should be made as follows:

Take 20 pounds wheat bran and mix an equal amount of fine saw dust with it.

Now, thoroughly mix in dry, one pound Paris green.

Get one gallon strong smelling molasses and six lemons.

Chip the lemons in fine parts, and thoroughly mix all together, using enough water to make the mixture moist so that it will stay in lumps.

Care should be exercised that children or stock do not get poisoned.

SLOW GROWTH OF GRAMMAR

Interesting to Note Its Progress Since the Days of Chaucer and Shakespeare.

In the days of Chaucer there were undoubtedly differences among writers which made their grammar and spelling seem singular to us; yet crude though they were, the art of literary composition was well advanced.

That, however, was not the greatest age; it came in the Elizabethan period; and while the literary peculiarities of Shakespeare's style were strongly defined, it could not be said in any sense that they revealed lack of knowledge in either grammar or spelling, the standards of that day being suited to the culture of the time.

And a great advance had been made over the days of Chaucer. In the days of Addison, Johnson, Swift, Congreve and Goldsmith we find a great advance with more unity in both grammar and spelling.

The authorized version of the Bible in the line of literary workmanship noted the greatest advance of all and reached a point which has not been surpassed if, indeed, equaled.

There was a certain latitude in spelling, it is true, to which we today look back with interested curiosity; but even that was not the result of ignorance, but rather of custom, which allowed the latitude, and it was in no sense a literary disfigurement.—Christian Herald.

Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army is an organization formed upon a quasi-military pattern, for the revival of religion among the masses. It was founded in England by the Methodist evangelist William Booth, about 1865, under the name of the Christian Mission, the present name and organization being adopted about 1878. It has extended to the continent of Europe, to India, Australia and other British possessions, to the United States, South America and elsewhere. Its work is carried on by means of processions, street singing and preaching, and the like, under the direction of officers entitled generals, majors and captains. Both sexes participate in the services and direction of the body on equal terms. Besides its religious work, it engages in various reformatory and philanthropic enterprises. It has no formulated creed, but its doctrines bear a general resemblance to those common to all Protestant evangelical churches, and especially to those of Methodism.

Death of An Honored Soldier.
Mr. Charles Dumont hands us the following letter regarding the death of a young Bandera County soldier boy. The deceased was a grandson of Mrs. Dumont. The letter was sent to his widowed mother, Mrs. Emma Eckhart of Bandera. He was 23 years old and was one of the first five men to volunteer from Bandera in September 1917. He was with the 90th Division in the St. Mihiel drive and the battles of the Meuse and the Argonne Forest. He was stationed a while at Berncastelle, after the division entered Germany, but later was sent back to Drohn, where his death occurred.

He was a prominent ranchman in Bandera County and owned a fine herd of Angora goats, having been identified with the goat industry since childhood. He was an active member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widowed mother, two sisters, Ola and Leah Eckhardt, and two brothers, Harley and Leroy. Leroy Eckhart was color bearer for the 315th Regiment of Engineers, 90th Division.

Following is the letter:

B'try E. 345 F. A. 90th Division,
Drohn, Germany, April 18, 1919.

Dear Madam:

It is with the deepest sorrow that I have to inform you of the sad death of your noble son, Sergeant Raymond J. Eckhart, which occurred on the night of April 14, 1919, at the American Hospital No. 19 Trier Germany.

The Sergeant had been suffering from a tooth which was filled about the first of the month, but the filling had to be removed on account of an abscess forming at the root. On the 10th the Dentist pulled the tooth but the swelling was not relieved and on the 11th I sent him to the hospital where he could get the most scientific treatment. Tetanus set in however and he passed away very quietly at 9:40 p. m. of the 14th. I am not only expressing my own opinion, but of every officer who has ever been in the Battery, when I say that your son was one of the finest true soldiers we have had in the organization. He took pride in his duties and when a knotty problem came up he would be the one to get the job, for I have often heard our Captain as well as every other officer in the battery, myself included, say "Give Sergeant Eckhart a couple of squads and you'll know that it will be done as it should be." The Sergeant never spoke harshly to the men under him and yet his section always showed up best. His men loved him as I have seldom seen a man loved by men and a great many called him "Mother Eckhart" for he nursed and cared for them as if they were children. He was always near to his God and I have often stepped into his billet to find him reading his Bible. The morning he left for the hospital he had it under his arm and though he was suffering a good deal, the thought came to me that some how its presence consoled him. Truly a better soldier never lived and you may rest assured that he has gone to Our Father in Heaven with a clear conscience and an untroubled mind to reap his reward above for the clean true life he has lived here on earth. Every officer, every man in the Battery loved him and he is grieved for by us now as he was formerly loved and respected. His comrades-in-arms wished to place a monument at his head, but this was denied by authorities as his body will be sent back to you, if you so desire as soon as the Government is able. He now lies in the soil he so nobly came over to conquer amidst other American soldiers in the beautiful Stabisha Friedhof Cemetery, Trier, Germany. Plot C. 1, grave No. 37. These graves are cared for by soldiers and Red Cross women and fresh flowers are always upon them. All the officers and men join me in this small expression of our sympathy.

Yours respectfully,
ROBERT C. DAVIS,

A FEW TESTIMONIALS
DEAR SIR: I wish to congratulate you on the discovery of the medicinal qualities of your mineral earth (now known as Saxa). I am 72 years of age. I had suffered for 20 years with bloody protruding piles. I had given up all hope of ever curing them, but your mineral earth (now known as Saxa) cured them. It is safe and sure. Respectfully,

The Rogers mineral (now known as Saxa) cured a cancer on my limb. I used every other kind of remedy and nothing did me any good, and it sure cured me sound and well, and I used only two boxes of this mineral, and it cured me right at once.

ROOSEVELT AUTHOR AT NINE
Even at That Early Age, What Future President Had to Say Was Entertaining.

Theodore Roosevelt's first book, like many of his fifty-odd later ones, dealt with natural history, but, unlike his later works, it was written entirely in pencil in an old notebook, an exchange states. Theodore was nine years old at the time. The title of the book is on the first page: "Natural History on Insects. By Theodore Roosevelt, Jr." Under it comes the "preface": "All these insects are native of North America. Most of the insects are not in other books. I will write about ants first." He did, and what he had to say about them is decidedly entertaining.

"Ants are divided into three sorts for every species. These kinds are officer, soldier and worker. There are about one officer to ten soldiers and one soldier to two workers." He tells about the common black ant and the brown path ant and various other kinds of ants; he tells about spiders and lady-bugs and fireflies and horned "beetles" and dragon flies and "misquito" hawks. "All the insects that I write about in this book," he adds, "inhabit North America. Now and then a friend has told me something about them, but mostly I have gained their habits from observation."

The author of "natural history on insects" added to his volume a note on a crayfish. "I need not describe the form of a crayfish to you," he writes. "Look at a lobster and you will have its form."

Just Passing the Time.
It was during a season of hard times at Cripple Creek, the streets were crowded with idle miners, and the city authorities, taking advantage of the fact, had a good amount of work done putting in sewers and paving streets. Mulligan, who toiled in the mines at other times, was not above earning a little extra money whenever possible, and had taken over a job at digging ditches. One morning his friend chanced to pass him as he was laboriously shoveling earth. "Hello, Mulligan! What are yez doin' there?" The workman leaned on his spade and made a long pause before answering: "Oh, Oi t'ought Oi would work just while Oi was idle, boy."

Goodness.
I think that most of my readers will agree with me that, notwithstanding the all-prevalent evil which in a thousand shapes haunts the footsteps of our race, good is still the mightiest power in the world, and, if its aimless strength could be concentrated and directed, would go far towards effecting a reformation of the world.—Sir H. Rider Haggard.

FOUND IT HARD TO ANSWER
Missionary Must Have Been Somewhat Staggered by Keen Logic of Kafir Chief.

Among the former chieftains of the black tribes of the Transvaal Magato maintained absolute independence during his reign over the Magatse, and it was not until after his death that the Boers succeeded in collecting the hut tax from his people. An incident that illustrates his character is told in "Secret Service in South Africa."

About 1894 the Boer government sent General Joubert with a small escort to persuade the truculent old chief to acknowledge its overlordship, or at least to pay something on account of the arrears of the hut tax.

"Are you Paul Kruger?" Magato demanded.

The general explained that he was a sort of chief Indiana to the president of the republic.

"Go back and tell your chief that I am as great a chief as he is, and that if he wishes to have a discussion he must come himself to see me. I do not talk to Indunas."

That was all the general got, and he had to be content.

The Kafir starts life at the point most white men only attain with old age. Independence and a competency are his natural heritage; therefore, why should he toil?

Magato summed up the position to the missionary who was vainly endeavoring to inculcate the European theory of the necessity and dignity of labor.

"Why do you white men work so hard?" he inquired.

"To earn money."

"Why do you want money?"

"That we may have no need to work."

"That is a roundabout way of getting to the position that my young men already occupy. You say work is a good thing, and that all good white men enjoy work. Why is it that when you send bad men to prison you make them work as a punishment?"—Youth's Companion.

Amphiscians are the people who inhabit the tropics, whose shadows in one part of the year are cast to the north and in the other to the south, according as the sun is north or south of their zenith.

The Antiscians are the inhabitants of the earth living on different sides of the equator, whose shadows at noon are cast in contrary directions. Those living north of the equator are antiscians to those living south of that line, and vice versa. The shadows on one side are cast toward the north and upon the other toward the south.

The Asclapians are the people who live in a land where, at a certain time of each year, they have no shadows at noon. All the inhabitants of the torrid zone are Asclapians, they having a vertical sun twice a year.

The Periscians are the inhabitants of the polar circle, whose shadows during some portions of the summer must in the course of the day move entirely around and fall toward every point of the compass.

Must Have Smelled to Heaven.
Throughout Italy of the sixteenth century the passion for perfumes amounted to a mania, according to Pompeo Molmenti, the historian. From cap on the head to the shoes on the feet, gloves—to such an extent that at Milan the guild of gloves and perfumers was one and the same—socks, shirts, even money, all were scented. And as if that were not enough, patrician ladies carried on their persons pouncet-boxes filled with scented unguents, and held in their hands chaplets of amber and smelling bottles. One finds in the inventories hairpins of amber. They put musk in their baths and amber, and aloes, and myrrh, peppermint, jonquill, Indian plum, cinnamon, ammonium and other scents. The patrician ladies, whose luxury in dress was imitated even by their servants, set the fashion for the wives of the wealthy citizens and their influence was nation-wide.

Largest Earth Embankment.
The Belle Esurche irrigation dam in South Dakota is the largest earth embankment in the world. Its construction was authorized by congress at a cost of $5,000,000. From an engineering standpoint this project is one of the most interesting which the government has yet undertaken. Its principal structure is the earthen dam. This dike, which closes the lowest depression in the rim of a natural basin, is 6,200 feet long, 20 feet wide on top and 15 feet high in the highest place. The inside face of this structure, which has a slope of one to two, is protected from wind and wave action by two feet of screened gravel, on which are placed concrete blocks each four by six feet. The cubical contents of this dike are 42,000,000 feet, or about half of the famous pyramids of Cheops in Egypt. The reservoir created by this dam covers about 9,000 acres and will be the largest lake in the state.

Make a Good Doughnut.
"Won't you please give me a dime mister," pleaded the professional mendicant. "I've got to eat something, you know."

"So you have, my poor fellow; but a dime is so small I am afraid it wouldn't satisfy your appetite. Here is a nice, large iron washer. You will find it much more filling."

Statements That May Be Investigated, Testimony of Hondo Citizens.

When a Hondo citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Hondo resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

B. H. Robinson, carpenter, says: "Several years ago I was troubled with my kidneys. I had to get up about three or four times at night to pass the kidney secretions which were scalding and highly colored. I had dizzy spells and black specks would appear before my eyes. My back ached and I had sharp pains in the region of my kidneys. A friend told me of Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box. That one box of Doan's regulated my kidneys and my back never aches now."

Biliousness and Constipation.

"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally." —Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.

Devine News Items.

Cause of Headache.

By knowing the cause, a disease may often be avoided. This is particularly true of headache. The most common cause of headache is a disordered stomach or constipation, which may be corrected by taking a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. Many others have obtained permanent relief by taking these Tablets. They are as easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

In the peace terms given Germany by the allies it is mentioned especially that Germany caused the war and is responsible for the war, while Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau insists that Germany's only responsibility is for violation of Belgian neutrality which it is ready to make reparation for.

The peace treaty is supposed to be signed or rejected by the Germans by Thursday, May 29th.

The Many Mysteries of Nature

BY L. W. BOWER, M. D.

You can take an onion seed and a pansy seed, and plant them side by side in the same spot of ground. In one case, you get an onion, with its peculiarly strong odor, and in the other you get a flower of rare beauty. You can plant a poppy seed and get opium (a dangerous, habit-forming drug), or you can plant a rhubarb seed and get something that helps constipation. No scientist, living or dead, can explain these mysteries of Nature. Behind the invisible life germ in each seed is hidden the deep secret that nobody understands. Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening drains, bearing-down pains, periodical irregularities, pelvic inflammations, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root and Oregon grape root. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that druggists everywhere sell it.

Favorite Prescription should have the full confidence of every woman in America because it contains no alcohol and no narcotic. Dr. Pierce knew, when he first made this standard medicine, that whiskey and morphine are injurious, and so he has always kept them out of his remedies. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial pkg. Tablets.

Miss Lucile Koontz, who had been attending the Bon Avon school in San Antonio for the past term, returned to her home here Sunday night.

Mr. Adolph Itlis and little daughter, Sophia, were here from San Antonio Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biediger. Mr. Itlis has a position with the Duering Mfg. Co., which he has held for 17 years without interruption.

Mr. and Mrs. Seb. Rieber and the Misses Cora and Ruby Rieber of Tarp-ley, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Fillemann and son, Edwin, and Misses Agnes and Carrie Fillemann and Mr. Breit of San Antonio, Fred Kempf, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. The Farmer and the New Day.

"The Farmer and the New Day," written by Kenyon L. Butterfield, President Massachusetts Agricultural College, and published by The Macmillan Company, 66 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., is a 311-page volume and is sold by the publishers at $2.00.

Among the notable contributions to the vast flood of literature dealing with the reconstruction policies growing out of the recent world war, this modest volume of Dr. Butterfield's is destined to attain prominent rank. Without becoming so voluminous as to be tedious, the author discusses very lucidly the agricultural development in this and European countries, draws a comparison as between the relative advantages and disadvantages of the one over the other, and points out the lessons taught by the war. The world has been brought suddenly to a keen realization of its absolute dependence upon the farmer for its sustenance. It has been made to realize that the matter of providing the world's sustenance has been too long left to haphazard and chance—neglected until the consequences of neglect, a growing urban, consuming population and a declining rural, producing population with its consequent diminishing food supply and advancing cost of living with its inevitable evil effects on the social, intellectual and moral life of the people, is becoming an occasion for not only national but world-wide concern. Out of this world travail, the author thinks he sees the dawn of The New Day for the farmer, provided the farmer responds to the Urge of this new day and meets the Challenge that lies in the time and the occasion. A prerequisite to the meeting of this challenge is, according to Dr. Butterfield, an Agricultural Program. But he does not attempt the ambitious task of defining this Program. He rather passes that labor up to his comrades in the following modest but confidently hopeful way:

"The hour has struck. America was unprepared for war. She is unprepared for peace. She carried the war to a glorious end. She will be equal to the demands of peace. But there is no time to lose. We did not have an adequate agricultural program before the war. We did not develop one during the war, and we do not have one now. But we are completely competent to make such a program. There are hosts of men who see the need, who have the vision, who possess knowledge and ideas. These men are to be found among the farmers and among public officials, but this knowledge, their ideas, their vision, their efforts must be correlated. It is only so that we can meet the issue of the hour. The Urge of the New Day in agriculture is a definite policy, an adequate program, and the larger co-operation.

"Europe can not be rehabilitated unless its agriculture is rebuilt. Are the American farmers ready to help in this rebuilding? The New Day will be merely a dream unless the farmer as well the laborer comes to his own. Education and organization now and evermore are the only doors through which the farmer can pass to his rightful place."

As briefly as possible, let us study this great subject with Dr. Butterfield.

Under the spur of necessity, superinduced by the competition of the larger-per-man production of the American farmer and the more congested population there, the European farmer has received more attention at the hands of his government. The great principles of improvement which were recognized and used at every turn were education and organization, the main idea being for the government to help farmers help themselves. There was thus developed in each country a well planned and fairly definite agricultural program—a plan of agricultural improvement meeting the farmers' needs and fitting into the national welfare. And while his income is several times less than the average income of the American farmer he was, before the war, reasonably prosperous and contented.

Notwithstanding the large average-per-man production on the American farm, the vast resources of fertile soil and the marvelous application of labor-saving implements to the work of the farm, the great majority of American farmers are not today securing from their labor a reward which they regard as fair to themselves, nor one which students of social science consider satisfactory from the standpoint of minimum requirements for a decent living. "The farmer does not get his share of the consumer's dollar." The growth of farm tenantry has become especially notable in recent years, peopling the land with transients, leading to poor farming, soil depletion, futile, ineffective lives and a consequent deterioration of the rural community. These dangerous tendencies mean disaster unless met and remedied. They are matters of grave national as well as of individual concern. They are matters of individual concern.

Catarrah for Twenty Years

Mrs. M. S. Davis, 1607 10th Ave., N. Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"After having been a constant sufferer from catarrah for more than twenty years and after trying almost every remedy advertised, and having lost all hope, I very reluctantly began the use of Peruna about two years ago. Everybody says I look younger now than I did twenty years ago, and I actually feel younger and better, and weigh more. I am recommending it to my neighbors and all with whom I come in contact."

Do You Enjoy Life?

A man in good physical condition is almost certain to enjoy life, while the bilious and dyspeptic are despondent, do not enjoy their meals and feel miserable a good share of the time. This ill feeling is nearly always unnecessary. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets to tone up the stomach, improve the digestion and regulate the bowels is all that is needed. Try it.

The Australian aviator Harry G. Hawker and his navigator Lt. Mackenzie Grieve, British airmen, who essayed a flight across the Atlantic Ocean, were compelled to alight on the water, on account of engine trouble, when 800 miles away from the Irish coast, on May 19th. A Danish steamer picked up the two men after they had been on the water for 90 minutes. English war ships brought the aviators a week later to England where they reached London Tuesday.

About Rheumatism.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that there is a remedy that will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. It is called Chamberlain's Liniment.

President Wilson has informed Washington officials that the United States will retain German ships seized in American ports, when this country entered the war. These ships have a capacity of 700,000 tons.

For a burn or a scald apply Chamberlain's Salve. It will allay the pain almost instantly and quickly heal the injured parts.

The volcano Kalut in Java is in action and has wrecked many villages. More than 15,000 people are reported killed.

In 1911 231,069 votes were cast in Texas for prohibition, and 237,333 against prohibition.

The result of the election held last Saturday is not yet known. Reports from 50 per cent of voting places all over the State indicate a small majority in favor of prohibition and the other amendments. Only the amendment in regard to raising the salary of the governor seems to be defeated.
